Discusses how to achieve love that is not dependent on external circumstances, defining it as a readily accessible inner state through which people bring love to the outside world by emulating the methods of leading spiritualists and scientists.

Everyone wants to be happy--yet so many people are unhappy today. What are they doing wrong? Clearly, a new approach is needed. Self-help guru Shimoff presents three new ideas and a practical program to change the way readers look at creating happiness in their lives: 1. Happiness is not an emotion, a spike of elation or euphoria, but a lasting, neuro-physiological state of peace and well-being. 2. True happiness is not based on what people do or have--it doesn't depend on external reasons or circumstances. 3. Research indicates that everyone has a happiness set-point. No matter what happens to a person, they will tend to return to a set range of happiness. This book shows how you can actually reprogram your set-point to a higher level.--From publisher description.

Activist, documentary filmmaker, and founder of the nonprofit Lunch on Me, LaRayia Gaston offers inspiring and practical guidance for bringing kindness, generosity, and love to a world in need. If the world's problems feel overwhelming and making a difference seems impossible, you're not alone. So many of us wish we could be doing something good and purposeful, but we get stuck. We think that what we do won't matter, or that we'll do it wrong, or that we don't have enough time or resources to begin with. But caring about each other is a natural instinct all humans have—what is it doing to our minds, bodies, and souls to ignore this part of our humanity? In *Love without Reason: The Lost Art of Giving a F*ck*, Gaston shares an inspiring and actionable guide to help us connect with our hearts, reawaken our innate desire to make a difference, and then make that difference in a way that not only helps others but also nourishes our own joy. Through Gaston's inspiring stories and practical guidance, you will:

- Dismantle the blocks that stop you from reaching out to your fellow humans—both personal fears and societal obstacles
- Learn how to help in a good way—a way that's needed, matches your gifts, and feels uplifting for you and those you serve
- Create positive energy exchanges—the energy behind how we give is as important as what we give
- Identify the places you can bring more kindness and caring into the world—to your community, your loved ones, and yourself
- Reconnect with your natural instincts for empathy and service—and experience the joy that arises when you do

Explore a list of dozens of micro-gestures—simple, intentional acts of caring for another person that can be done by anyone, anywhere, at any time Filled with profound heartwork exercises, journaling prompts, and real-world practices, Love Without Reason helps you discover that showing you care—showing you actually give a f*ck—doesn't have to be difficult and isn't about sacrifice. It's about joy, and it's about love.

Our greatest suffering is that we do not feel complete as we are. Right here, right now! We have been trained to reject our uniqueness and our value. We live in a prison; a cage of guilt, anxiety and worthlessness, believing that we are never 'good enough' just as we are. Mark Kahn, a practicing clinical psychologist of 35 years, and management consultant with 17 years' worth of experience, has devoted his life to helping people to realise self-love, without arrogance. In this unique Self-Esteem work, penned straight from the heart and shooting straight from the hip; readers will be taken through the theory, as well as a range of simple, yet powerful techniques enabling individuals:

- Dissolve your feelings of victimhood in the face of conflict and threat.
- To no longer be a slave to the conditioned rules of society.
- To reclaim the power and confidence you have given away to others.
- To choose to risk yourself more than you avoid.
- To let go of the noose of guilt and performance anxiety, which society has placed around your neck.
- To move from the hell of wanting to be loved, to the heaven of loving yourself for no reason!"

This insightful book is both a direct and powerful response to the prison walls created by our conditioning. To dismantle these walls enables a freedom of spirit and psyche to emerge, that honours the individuality, the uniqueness and the genius of every one of us."Dr. John F. Demartini

As her son grows up from little boy to adult man, a mother secretly rocks him each night as he sleeps.

When Cam returned and took one look at the five-month-old baby in her arms, Riona's deepest fear became a reality. Cam gave her a choice—a marriage of convenience to legitimize their son...or a custody battle that Riona knew only Cam could win!

Acclaimed trance medium Suzane Northrop examines the relationship among those who have passed over, the soul, and the lessons to be learned. She shows unequivocally that each person is here to complete a particular portion of what will be a never-ending journey of the soul.

Matthew Crane, a retired detective, is flying to the island of Aruba to reunite with his wife after being released from a rehabilitation center. He meets Laura Baum, a psychologist interested in his story and why he seems to be so preoccupied and riddled with anxiety. Matthew decides to tell her his story. Flashback: Matthew dreams about a surprise trip to Paris he has planned for him and his wife. The following day, his wife awoke to find him unconscious. His biological clock has almost stopped. Matthew is rushed to the hospital. His best friend, a renowned Neurologist, gives him a battery of medical tests and finds his vital signs are perfect, and Matthew appears to be asleep and cannot be awoken. Weeks go by, and Matthew is transferred to a rehabilitation facility. Carol visits him daily and finds herself obsessed with finding out what is wrong with him. Matthew stops aging, his hair, nails, and beard stop growing. His pulse and blood pressure are always the same. He seems to be in a state of suspended animation. Has his biological clock stopped? Carol becomes the detective Matthew used to be and searches the world to answer this medical mystery. Matthew's doctor warns Carol about chasing magical cures that have no scientific value. Despite his warnings, through the internet, she discovers a doctor in Mumbai, India, who has been researching a rare medical disorder he has termed Trans-Suspension Meditation. Matthew is actually in a deep state of meditation. She learns her husband will awaken when his dream state ends. But is this doctor a charlatan, or is he real? The story evolves with flashbacks and loving memories from both characters that leave the viewer realizing that "True love needs no reason." A whirlwind trip to Paris takes place but is it only in his dreams? After eighteen months of daily visits, Carol is convinced by her daughter that she takes a vacation before she collapses from exhaustion. Her daughter tells her of the Paris surprise Matthew was planning. Two days later, she leaves for ten days, where they spent the last seventeen years on vacation as a couple. She is apprehensive about traveling alone but overcomes her anxiety and flies off to the Caribbean island. During her second day on vacation, Matthew's dream comes to an end. He awakens on his own in total confusion about where he is and what happened to him. The last eighteen months of his life are explained to him by his doctor and daughter. He finds his situation hard to believe but accepts it when he is shown a current newspaper. After a two-day medical workup, Matthew insists he is allowed to fly to Aruba to surprise and be reunited with Carol. This is where the story began. It is here that the story ends when his plane lands and he and Laura Baum part friends. Matthew surprises his wife on the beach, where they have always watched the sunset.
